This edition brings up to date a decade of research work developments of the Faculty of Arts and Social Science, National University of Singapore, since the first volume was published in 1985. The state of the respective disciplines covered are reviewed in terms of notable theoretical and conceptual developments, major benchmarks during the past decade, and research lacunae that need to be addressed, as well as their substantive developments and contributions in the Singapore context and possible future directions, resulting in a collection of essays that places the Faculty's studies in an international comparative framework.

Note from Timothy's Mother: I pray that everyone that reads this book will encourage their child to find that special gift within. Let's continue to let our children know we all are special and need each others help every day. Show your child that helping others is what we're supposed to do. It will allow children to know that they are cared for by their families, friends and community. I encourage schools to take the word, "Special" out of Special Education, so no one will feel different or better than any other. A place were all kids can receive the help they need to become successful in school and in life.
