This paper examines the rationale for my teaching philosophy from an Islamic perspective. The theoretical issues in this paper are the purpose of education, functions of the pen, purpose of man, integration of the curriculum, instructor's leadership in the class, instructor's Islamic knowledge and motivation. In this paper, as an educator who is Muslim, I explain my teaching objectives, mission, and vision based on teachings from Al-Quran. This paper also creates a road map and a reference point for educators who want to write their own Islamic teaching philosophy statements to help them make informed decisions when teaching their students. In my Islamic teaching philosophy, I apply the concept of the Naqli (revealed knowledge) and the Aqli (rational knowledge) approach for teaching and learning in the classroom. A bibliography is included.

In this book, 24 leading philosophers of education since 1970 who remain influential today present the fascinating stories of their lives and important new contributions to the field.

This book provides practical and research-based chapters that offer greater clarity about the particular kinds of teacher reflection that matter and avoids talking about teacher reflection generically, which implies that all kinds of reflection are of equal value.

Teacher and educator Nathaniel Max Rock, believes he has been called to the profession of teaching, "By the will of God and the authority of Jesus Christ." In this bluntly forthright treatise on the state of education, Max lays out his perspective on multi-cultural education, federal and state standards and the harsh realities of student motivation. Additional material is included on the subjects of teacher personalities, curriculum design and the presentation of a radical high school model. Nathaniel Max Rock is an engineer by training with a masters in business. Max has been an educator since 2002 teaching the subjects of Algebra I, Geometry I, Honors Geometry I, AVID and CAHSEE test prep. 96 pages

Affective Teacher Education is one of the first books to provide teacher educators, classroom teachers, school administrators, and teacher candidates with research and recommendations related to affective education. All teachers want to become professional educators; they want find satisfaction and reward in their chosen careers. Likewise, all teachers want to show their students in all grade levels and in all subject areas how to acquire, apply, and appreciate appropriate dispositions or outlooks related to the course content and as a community of learners. This book guides and supports teachers to fulfill these two goals. Each chapter explores a different aspect of affective education and offers the reader useful suggestions to prompt self-assessment, professional conversations, and developmental activities. Affective Teacher Education helps teachers to visualize teaching and learning holistically, linking the knowledge, skills, and dispositions that students need to know, do, and feel, to achieve in school and become lifelong learners.

This volume documents the 17th Münster Lectures in Philosophy with Susan Haack, the prominent contemporary philosopher. It contains an original, programmatic article by Haack on her overall philosophical approach, entitled "The Fragmentation of Philosophy, the Road to Reintegration". In addition, the volume includes seven papers on various aspects of Haack's philosophical work as well as her replies to the papers. Susan Haack has deeply influenced many of the debates in contemporary philosophy. In her vivid and accessible way, she has made ground-breaking contributions covering a wide range of topics, from logic, metaphysics and epistemology, to pragmatism and the philosophy of science and law. In her work, Haack has always been very sensitive in detecting subtle differences. The distinctions she has introduced reveal what lies at the core of philosophical controversies, and show the problems that exist with established views. In order to resolve these problems, Haack has developed some "middle-course approaches". One example of this is her famous "Foundherentism", a theory of justification that includes elements from both the rival theories of Foundationalism and Coherentism. Haack herself has offered the best description of her work calling herself a "passionate moderate".
